[For the Pacific Commercial Advertiser.] What I Wish For.

- 1. One female companion to soften my cares,
- Two thousand a year to support my affairs; 2. Three dogs and a gun when to sport I incline,
- Four horses and chalse to indulge me and mine; 3. Five jovial companieds with whost to make merry,
- Six dishes each day with six glasses of sherry;
- 4. Seven rooms in my house for my friends at their leisure, Eight something or other to add to their pleasure;
- 5. Nine pounds in my pocket when each I require; Ten favors on earth is all I desire, and a passport to heaven when I wish to retire.

A question from Punch .- Minnie (inquisitive child)-" Mamma, you told me that ladies should always be first, didn't you?" Mamma—"Yes, my darling, certainly." Minnie—"Then, if you please, why wasn't I born before Willie?"

A Pekin (III.) woman was asked by the preacher if her husband feared the Lord. She replied; " Fear Him? Bless you, he is so feared of Him that he never goes out Sunday without taking his gun along with him."

The object Victoria had in sending her garter to young Mr. Napoleon, at his birthday party at Chiselburst last Monday, was probably to keep the young man's stockin royalty from running down at the heel.

A gentleman in Missouri drew all of his money out of the bank during the late panic and put it nobody knows where. Then he died suddenly, and his heirs are wildly prospecting in all sorts of probable and improbable places.

Louis Taylor, of Hartford, tried to pull a loaded gan between the cracks of a barn door and died, which leads the Interior Journal to observe; "It is a true saying that with all the tender nursing and affectionate care you may possibly bestow upon a shotgun it will bang the stuffing out of you the first time it gets a chance."

A funny suft against an editor has been decided in the Circuit Court at Waukesha, Iowa. The Fays, proprietors of the La Belle House at Oconomowoc, brought an action before a Justice to recover $97 04 for meals and cigars furnished Ashley D. Harger, editor of the Oconomowoc Times. Harger set up a counter claim of $160 for "puffing" the La Belle House. Judgment was rendered for the plaintiff, and Mr. Harger appealed to a jury. The case excited much interest, Harger being well liked, and having a solemn. earnest manner of making witty remarks, He testified that Fay would say to him: "Harger, I've got a nice dinner to-day—come in." "No, I thank you, I'm going home." Fay would prevail on him to stay, and after dinner the following colloquy: "Everything in there all right, " Everything excellent" " Dessert all right?" "Fxcellent." "Ice cream all right?" "Delicious, Mr. Fay." "Very well, remember this in your paper next week." In return for dinners and eigars, Harger says that he told a great many lies editorially worth more than a thousand dollars. He would never have presented a bill for lies had not Fay fallen out with him and wanted pay for the dinners. Harger pleaded his own case and the jury found a verdict for him, which threw the costs upon the hotel keeper.

DELIGHTS OF JOURNALISM IN COLORADO.-The editor of the Rocky Mountain News is having a happy time. Some of the little difficulties of journalism which he is called to encounter were thus related in a recent number of his paper:

For one thing the wolves gnawed into his office and chewed up his press roller, and he had to send thirty miles after glue to cast another. The office was visited by an earthquake the next day, and the next the editor was called to go on an eighty-mile raid to punish Indian horse thieves. As his assistant editor was laid up with a bullet in his leg, these things would have discouraged an ordinary editor, but they had no effect on him. He trusts that his readers will have patience until spring opens, and apologizes for the paleness of his paper by saying that he had run short of ink, and that there was none to be had within two hundred and thirty miles.

But these little troubles were nothing to his visit from three desperadoes whom he had advised to "git." They got in the wrong direction, walking into his office with drawn revolvers. He was accidentally warned of their approach, and he says: "They commenced blazing away while we were slipping slugs into the shotgun; but after we had sent Pearl River Jack to the silent tomb, and brought down Big Tom with a charge in the hip, the other party concluded that it wasn't a healthy morning for cleaning out the News. We received a slight flesh wound on the shoulder, but nothing to prevent from issuing the News on TRAINING HIM .- Some time since, a Mrs. Buckelby, who lives over in Berrien county, directed her son Samuel, a lad of fourteen years, to take a turn at the churn. Now as Samuel had set his heart on going a fishing at that very time, he .. got his back up," and flatly refused to agitate out of his spine by a slipper, and with " tears in Family Gracery and Food Storm his eyes," he went on duty with the dasher. In about half an hour, and during the brief absence of his mother, his eyes fell upon a plate of flypoison, and a bright, smart thought struck him. Just before Mrs. B. came in, Samuel lifted the fatal platter to his face, and as she entered, he put the " poison" from his lips with the dramatic exclamation: "There, mother, I guess you won't lick me no more!" Now, what did the Spartan dame do? Did she shriek for a doctor, and fall into hysterics? Not much. She simply took Samuel by the nap of the neck, lifted him deftly into the pantry, beat the white of six eggs to-gether, and told him to engulf the same instanter; he, refusing, she called the hired girl, and in a twinkling Sam found himself outside the albumen .-Then Mrs. B. began preparing a mustard emetic. Seeing this, Sam's pluck dissolved, and he commenced begging, crying, "I was only trying to skeer ye," but the stern parent was not to be softened, and Samuel had to swallow the mustard. He was then forced to take a dose of pain-killer, and had his back rubbed with the "Vigor of Life" and his stomach with the "Oil of Gladness." Then he vomited up everything but his hoots and socks. This being over, he took seven Ayer's pills, two spoonsful of castor oil, a teaspoonful of salts and a blue pill. And now, if

THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS ARE noted the world over for their unrivaled salubrity of climate. Certain totalities in the group are especially favored in this way.—The District of Kons, on the leeward side of Hawaii, has long been famed as a place of resort for invalids with bronchital, or long diseases. With its pure and mild atmosphere, with its absolute freedom from storms or high winds, with its porous soil which, with all its rich vegetation, retains no dampness and yields no malaria, and with an unvarying temperature—that of the American or Southern European June—ALL THE YEAR ROUND, the climate of Kona is one of the healthlest and most luxurious on the globe. The undersigned, at his house at Kanwaloa, a house une-The undersigned, at his house at Kaawaloa, a house unequaled in the district for size, cleanliness, commodicusness, and thoroughness of furnishing, is prepared to give boarders excellent rooms and all obtainable comforts in the way of diet, at the low rate of $ 5.00 per week. There are fresh water baths on the premises, and fine sea bathing within a short distance. The steamer Kilauea and the sobooners Uilama and Prince, run regularly between Honolulu and the Ksawaloa landing.

The undersigned employs no agents nor runners. His house speaks for itself upon inspection.
